

Curriculum Guide for Infusing Deaf-Blind Interpreting Throughout an Interpreter Education Program

By
Jane Hecker-Cain, Susanne Morgan Morrow & Richelle Frantz

This resource has been compiled to help interpreter educators readily access instructional materials related to teaching deaf-blind interpreting skills that can be incorporated into any curriculum. The course titles listed below are deliberately generic to reflect the types of courses typically included in Interpreter Education Programs. The last pages of this document outline how and where these materials can be obtained.

National Curriculum for Training Interpreters Working with People who are Deaf-Blind [includes videos]

National Interpreter Education Project: Northwestern Connecticut Community College. -- Dawn Sign Press: 2001, 354.

The materials include activities and programs that can be adapted for use in a multitude of settings to encourage a better understanding of the Deaf-Blind community. The two-video set offers five informative, easy-to-understand programs: The Deaf-Blind Community Experience, Understanding Technology Used by People who are Deaf-Blind, Sighted Guide Techniques with People who are Deaf-Blind, Tactile Communication Methods and Techniques and Interpreting Adjustments. Available through the National Clearinghouse of Rehabilitation Training Materials at Utah State University. For a free PDF download and to view the videos, go to www.ncrtm.org. Scroll down the left column to "Digital Library" and then Search by Title. A spiral bound copy is also available for $26.40. If you have any difficulty accessing these materials, contact Jennifer Robinson at Jennifer.robinson@usu.edu or 1-866-821-5355.

Make Your Own Vision Impairment Simulators
